THE PROBLEM

A decision problem, not an AI problem

When AI can act — not just answer — the decision system itself must become explicit: what an agent may sense, what evidence it may trust, what it may decide, and who is accountable for the outcome.

Decision friction is a hidden operating expense
Decisions are assembled by hand and go stale fast.

Few decisions leave a record of why
Evidence, confidence and dissent vanish after the call.

Autonomy raises the accountability bar
Agents that act need delegation and an audit trail.

HOW WE PROVE IT

The product is the white paper

THE OLD WAY

A white paper

- A promise on paper
- The best storyteller wins
- Proof arrives after the award
- Months before a first result

THE GIMBLE WAY

A live product

- Open it before you talk to us
- The working, data-driven product wins
- Proof arrives before the first meeting
- Refined to your needs in a sprint

The floor has been raised. In the autonomous decision age, competition moves from the best storytellers to functioning, data-driven products. So Gimble leads with its products, viewable to all, and refines each one to the client's needs.

HOW AN ENGAGEMENT WORKS

Start with one decision, then scale

ENTER

Decision Sprint

Four to six weeks on one expensive, recurring decision: map it, wire the evidence, stand up a working system.

Fixed scope · fixed fee

OPERATE

Decision System

The validated system in production, with a provenance chain on every assertion and outcomes tracked.

Annual · per decision system

SCALE

Decision Enterprise

Multiple decision systems on one architecture, a shared decision graph and a common trust rail.

Annual · enterprise scope

Acceptance, honestly defined. Every engagement opens by agreeing the baseline the system must meet or beat. SI·GNAL, CUSTODY and EIDOLON subscriptions are available today; Decision Operations engagements open with GTI's 2027 launch.
